

World Series Report
2000 HWSA Tournament
Lipscomb University
Nashville, Tennessee
April 2000

Facilities: Lipscomb University, Nashville, TN
Tournament Director: Jeff Hartline
Tournament Support: Larry & Lori Cochran

Participating Teams
Atlanta Barons
Houston Eagles
Huntsville Falcons
Middle Tennessee Monarchs
Virginia Beach Breakers
Wichita Warriors

Final Standings:

1. Houston HCYA Eagles
2. Atlanta GGC Barons

Championship Game:

Houston Eagles def. Atlanta Barons, 7-4

Summary:

The Homeschool World Series Association (HWSA) was formed in April 2000 when a group of homeschool baseball program directors and coaches, including Lori Cochran (Houston, TX) and Jeff Hartline (Nashville, TN) united in the joint effort to plan and organize a National Homeschool Baseball Tournament.

Six teams representing six different states competed in the inaugural Homeschool World Series that was hosted by Coach Jeff Hartline of the Middle Tennessee Monarchs at Lipscomb University in Nashville, TN. The Houston, TX HCYA Eagles claimed the Silver Championship Cup at the first Homeschool World Series, with the Atlanta GGC Barons as first runner-up.